The first page has a short paragraph about river levels in spring.

The third page lists the sensor names used at the northern bridge.

The fifth page closes the document with contact details for the data team.